Chester Clergy Family Charitable Trust

THE CHURCH OF ENGLAND

Supporting clergy families, and others in ministry in the Diocese of Chester.

We believe that people working for the Church of England and their families should be able to flourish and thrive. Yet life in ministry can bring unique pressures — from living in the public eye and balancing family life with parish responsibilities, to managing the financial realities of life on a stipend.

Your support can help church workers and their families feel sustained, valued, and cared for.

The Chester Clergy Family Charitable Trust (CCFCT) is here to offer a helping hand when it's hard to make ends meet, when couples are feeling the strain, or when children would otherwise miss out on opportunities in education or training.

CCFCT was set up in 1999 for the relief of hardship and distress, education and tuition fees and the promotion and fulfilment of family wellbeing.

Your gift could help fill the gap when a family are feeling the pressure or missing out. If there are children, it might mean they can afford to learn a musical instrument or join a school trip. A grant from CCFCT could support a couple, send a family on holiday, provide disability support, or help pay for school uniform.

Thank you for your assistance.
